- Who should I use?
- Where do I start organising my removal?
- Can I pack my own boxes?

- Will my belongings be covered by insurance?
- How much notice is required?
- Storage - if I require storage how do I go about it?
- What about any special items that are to be moved?
- Can I move plants?
- How are my belongings cared for in the removal truck?

It is advisable to have your boxes packed by a removalist as the contents of boxes you pack may not be covered under insurance against breakage or damage. Cartons can be obtained from various sources. It is recommended that you use boxes that are thick and strong. Lynns stocks proper removal boxes including, large, medium, portarobes and picture packs.

HANDY HINTS

- Make sure you use strong cartons. Use small cartons for crockery, books and fragile items. Use large cartons for pots, pans, linen, clothing, plastic ware and bulky items.
- When packing plates, wrap them and stand plates on their edge. This is their stongest point.
- Put the heavier items on the bottom of the carton and the lighter items on top
- Label each carton and keep an inventory of them
- Clean and defrost fridge and freezers at least 24hrs prior to uplift. You will be surprised at the amount of water that comes out even in auto defrost fridges and freezers.
- Do not water plants 24hours prior to uplift as water can drain from the plants into the removalist truck and damage your belongings
- Keep last minute essentials and your personal items that you will need with you, organised and set aside so these do not get packed away with the goods for removal by mistake
- It is a good idea to get children looked after by a friend, relative or neighbour if possible as this will leave you free from distraction and make things easier on the day
- Be sure to arrange for your mail to be forwarded to your new address
- Use a box for priority items & label it 'Priority'. This box can be used for packing such things as keys, remote controls, screws & bolts for items of furniture that have been dismantled, computer, TV & stereo electrical leads, jug, tea, coffee, etc. Any item that you will need to access when you first arrive at your new home.
